Customer Service for Assisted Living

PROVIDING EXCEPTIONAL CARE AND SERVICE TO ASSISTED LIVING RESIDENTS
Customer Service in Assisted Living
A Leader’s Guide to Energizing Your Customer Service Team

ASSISTED LIVING UNIVERSITY

10206 Oakton Station Court
Oakton, Virginia 22124
800/258-7030

Copyright © 2004, Assisted Living University

ALL RIGHTS RESERVED
Reproduction or translation of any part of this work, by whatever means, beyond that permitted by Section 107 or 108 of the United States Copyright Act without permission of the copyright owners is unlawful. Inquiries regarding permission for use of material contained in this publication should be addressed to: ALU, 10206 Oakton Station Court, Oakton, Virginia 22124.
Acknowledgments

Sincere thanks to the following people who contributed to this training manual:

Irving Stackpole, RRT, MEd, Co-author
Kelly Wallask, Co-author
Jennifer Noonan, Senior Editor
Gloria Zayanskosky, MPA, CALA, Contributor
Annamarie Mariani-Huehn, Contributor
Greg Efta, Contributor
Phyllis Watson, RN, Contributor
Thomas G. Widmer, MBA, Contributor
Dale Lind, MBA, Contributor
Karen Love, Contributor
Jackie Pinkowitz, Contributor
Emily Meyer, PhD, Contributor
Polly Miller, Contributor
David D. Peete, Publisher
David M. Goldberg, Publisher
I. Introduction: About This Book
   a. What is the Challenge?
   b. Key Components
   c. Key Topics

II. What Is Customer Service?
   a. Chapter One: Learning Objectives
   b. What Is The Challenge?
   c. Key Topics
   d. Developing a Team of Service All-Stars
   e. What Is Customer Service?
   f. Moments of Truth
   g. Three Benefits of Service Excellence
   h. One Community’s Success Story
   i. Four Key Success Factors for Customer Service
   j. Three Obstacles to Providing Service Excellence
   k. Good Customer Service Gets Everybody Talking
   l. Meet The Challenge…

III. Creating Positive First Impressions
   a. Chapter Two: Learning Objectives
   b. What Is The Challenge?
   c. Key Topics
   d. Three Key First Impressions
   e. Creating Impressions Over The Telephone
   f. Meet The Challenge...

IV. The Key To Meeting Customer Satisfaction: Meeting Expectations
   a. Chapter Three: Learning Objectives
   b. What Is The Challenge?
   c. Key Topics
   d. Meeting Customer Expectations
   e. Establishing Expectations
   f. Never Sell More Than You Can Deliver
   g. Adjusting Customer Expectations
   h. LEAD: A Model for Communicating With Customers
   i. Meet The Challenge…

V. Family Members: A Key Customer Group
   a. Chapter Four: Learning Objectives
   b. What Is The Challenge?
   c. Key Topics
d. Building Relationships With Family Members
e. Using LEAD to Handle Customer Complaints
f. Meet the Challenge…

VI. Fostering Employee Commitment to Customer Service
a. Chapter Five: Learning Objectives
b. What Is The Challenge?
c. Key Topics
d. Hiring Customer Services-Oriented Staff
e. Involving Your Staff in the Customer Service Mission
f. Leading By Example
g. Inspiring and Empowering Your Employees
h. Meet The Challenge…

VII. Measuring Customer Satisfaction
a. Chapter Six: Learning Objectives
b. What Is The Challenge?
c. Key Topics
d. Measure, Train, Recognize and Reward
e. Three Steps for Creating and Customer-Centered Culture
f. Step 1: Measure Customer Satisfaction
g. Gaining Customer Feedback
h. Three Guidelines for Conducting Satisfaction Surveys
i. Six Types of Satisfaction Surveys
j. The Critical Incidence Technique (CIT)
k. Developing Customer Service Standards
l. Meet The Challenge…

VIII. Customer Service Training
a. Chapter Seven: Learning Objectives
b. What Is The Challenge?
c. Key Concepts
d. Step 2: Training Your Staff to Deliver Great Service
e. Self-Guided Training
f. Meet The Challenge…

IX. Rewarding and Recognizing Service Excellence
a. Chapter Eight: Learning Objectives
b. What Is The Challenge?
c. Key Topics
d. Step 3: Reward and Recognize Service Excellence
e. Five Steps to Starting Your Rewards Program
f. Meet The Challenge…
g. What Have You Learned?
X. Customer Service Training Modules
   a. About These Customer Service Training Modules
   c. Module 2: Your Role in Customer Service
   d. Module 3: First Impressions – Dressed For Service
   e. Module 4: First Impressions – Telephone Skills
   f. Module 5: First Impressions – Meeting and Greeting Customers
   g. Module 6: Communicating With Customers – Active Listening
   h. Module 7: Communicating with Customers – LEAD
   i. Module 8: Communicating With Customers – Using LEAD to Handle Customer Complaints
   j. Module 9: Creating The Customer Experience – Dining
   k. Module 10: Creating The Customer Experience – Housekeeping
   l. Module 11: Creating The Customer Experience – Laundry
   m. Module 12: Creating The Customer Experience – Activities
   n. Module 13: Creating The Customer Experience – Maintenance
   o. Module 14: Creating The Customer Experience – Resident Care
   p. Module 15: Creating The Customer Experience – Volunteers
   q. Module 16: Providing Good Service During End-of-Life Care
   r. Answers to Self-Check Questions
   s. Certificate of Merit.
About These Customer Service Training Modules

These Customer Service Training Modules consist of easy-to-use lesson plans with:

- Instructor’s notes.
- Handouts (an electronic copy—in Adobe PDF format is on the accompanying CD-ROM).
- Self-Check Questions (an electronic copy—in Adobe PDF format—is on the accompanying CD-ROM).
- Certificate of Merit—for training participants (an electronic copy—in Adobe PDF format—is on the accompanying CD-ROM).

These brief in-services will give Participants an opportunity to discuss customer service and practice various skills that will make lasting positive impressions.

Preparing to Present the In-Services

First, you must read and be familiar with the Customer Service in Assisted Living Manual.

Everything you need to present the in-services is included with these Training Modules. Allow enough time prior to each in-service to:

- Review the instructor’s note.
- Prepare additional notes of your own.
- Make the appropriate number of copies of the handouts.
- Be familiar with the roleplay / activity instructions.
How to Use the Instructor’s Notes

The Instructor’s Notes offer a guide to delivering the training modules. The notes do not offer a complete script. The reason for this is that you are training adult learners who have experience and opinions. Your role is to facilitate discussion, not lecture.

Throughout the notes, specific activities and directions are provided to help you present the information clearly and easily. You will also find handouts that will help you present important information.

Text that is written in bold and italics indicates sample scripting; however, you may customize the material to be more reflective of your own word choices. Again, complete scripting is not provided. Therefore, you will need to spend some time planning.

Throughout the Instructor’s Notes, several graphics are used to help you see at a glance what you are supposed to do. The tables on the following two pages show each graphic and how it is used.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Graphic</th>
<th>Description</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>![Note]</td>
<td>The modules are designed for 15- to 20-minute time periods. These timeframes offer flexibility. For example:</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>- If you have 15 minutes available during a monthly staff meeting, you can conduct one module.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>- If you have 30 minutes available for a regularly scheduled staff in-service you can conduct two modules.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>This Picture…</td>
<td>Indicates…</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>-------------</td>
<td>------------</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td><img src="image" alt="Clock Icon" /></td>
<td>…the time required to complete the module.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td><img src="image" alt="Question Icon" /></td>
<td>…the introduction to the module.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td><img src="image" alt="People Icon" /></td>
<td>…where you will present or review important information.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td><img src="image" alt="Question Icon" /></td>
<td>…a question for you to ask the Participants.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td><img src="image" alt="Roleplay Icon" /></td>
<td>…a roleplay or exercise you will facilitate to provide practical experience for Participants.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>This Picture…</td>
<td>Indicates…</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>---------------</td>
<td>-------------</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td><img src="image1.png" alt="image" /></td>
<td>… a handout for the Participants.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td><img src="image2.png" alt="image" /></td>
<td>… a key point for you to emphasize with the Participants.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td><img src="image3.png" alt="image" /></td>
<td>… a note for the facilitator.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td><img src="image4.png" alt="image" /></td>
<td>… where to use a flipchart.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td><img src="image5.png" alt="image" /></td>
<td>… the conclusion of the module.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Module 1: What Is Customer Service?

What You Will Need
Instructor’s Notes
Handouts
Self-Check Questions
INTRODUCE this in-service by saying:

> Over the next several weeks, we will be conducting in-services geared toward improving our level of customer service. Today’s in-service is an overview of customer service.

DISTRIBUTE the training objectives for this module.

REVIEW the training objectives.

By the end of this module, Participants will be able to:
- Define the term customer service.
- List examples of customers.
- Explain the term moments of truth.
- Explain why service excellence is good for our community.
- Explain the Golden Rule of Customer Service.

REVIEW the definition of customer service that appears on the framing objectives handout.

ASK the Participants the following question:

As the definition states, “customer service” is defined as the actions we take to create a good experience for the customer.

As a customer, what are some recent good service experiences that you have had?
KEY POINT:

EXPLAIN the Golden Rule of Customer Service: “Treat others as you would like to be treated.”

ASK the Participants:

Before we go on, let’s create a list of our customers. Who do you consider to be a customer?

As the Participants to name the various customer groups. RECORD their answers on the FLIP CHART.

Make sure that all of the following customer groups get recorded:

- Residents
- Families
- Prospects
- Our co-workers
- Referral sources
- Vendors
- Volunteers
- Anyone who comes into our community

EXPLAIN to the Participants:

Everyday we interact with customers in our community. They have experiences with us just like you have had with sellers and service providers. They too, feel either very happy or very unhappy with their experience. Our goal always is to create a satisfied customer.
ASK the following question:

In what ways is good customer service good for our community?

Example responses include:

- More people will want to come to our community.
- The residents will be happy.
- Our job will be easier because people are happy.
- Our customers will tell other people about us.

Make the following KEY POINTS:

- Good customer service enhances our reputation.
- Good customer service means fewer complaints which makes our job easier.

CONCLUDE this in-service by saying:

Customer service isn't something extra we do at work. It is the way we do our work. Good service enhances our reputation and makes our jobs easier. Over the next several weeks, we will continue to have customer service training.

Before we meet again, be thinking about what you can do to make a customer’s moment of truth a good one. We will talk more about moments of truth at upcoming in-services. Remember, our goal is to provide the best service we can.
Module 1: Handouts

In-Service Objectives

What Is Customer Service?

Self-Check Questions
Module 1: What Is Customer Service?
In-Service Objectives

When you have completed this in-service, you will be able to:

- Define the term customer service.
- List examples of customers.
- Explain the term moments of truth.
- Explain why service excellence is good for our community.
- Explain the Golden Rule of Customer Service.
Module I: What Is Customer Service?
Self-Check Questions

1. A customer will feel that our service is good when:
   a. Our census is low.
   b. We lower our rates.
   c. He or she feels satisfied about their experience with us.
   d. All of the above.
   e. None of the above.

2. The following people are customers:
   a. Residents and their families.
   b. Vendors and referral sources
   c. Co-workers and anyone else who comes into our community
   d. All of the above
   e. None of the above

3. A “moment of truth” is when:
   a. We tell the customer what’s on our mind.
   b. We confront a co-worker.
   c. We have an interaction with a customer during which he/she makes a judgment about our service.
   d. Both “A” and “B”

4. Which of the following are examples of moments of truth:
   a. The way that I answer the phone.
   b. The way I greet someone in our community.
   c. How quickly I respond to a resident when he/she needs something.
   d. All of the above
   e. None of the above